

3.2.2 Summary of Workshops/Seminars/Conferences on Research Methodology, IPR and Entrepreneurship

A number of workshops/seminars/conferences including programs conducted on Research Methodology, Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) and entrepreneurship were conducted during the last five years. In the academic and professional arena, these events play a crucial role in disseminating knowledge, fostering skills, and promoting interaction among participants.

During the 2019-20 academic year, a "Workshop on Career Options in Khadi: Vocal to Local" was organized in June 2020, attracting 65 participants. This event likely aimed to shed light on the career prospects within the Khadi industry, emphasizing the 'vocal for local' movement.

In the following year, 2020-21, several significant events were conducted, including a "Skill Development & Employment Opportunities" seminar in May 2020, with 98 participants. Additionally, a "Workshop on Khadi-Gramoudyog" was held, gathering 530 participants over three days in July 2020. Notably, a "Faculty Development Program (FDP) on Research Methodology" saw the participation of 543 individuals from 23rd to 29th June 2020. These events underscored the emphasis on skill development and research within the organization.

In the subsequent academic year 2021-22, an "IPR Workshop" was conducted in July 2021, attracting a remarkable 614 participants. This event likely focused on Intellectual Property Rights, a significant aspect of the modern business world.

Lastly, in the ongoing year 2022-23, two "Workshops on IPR" were held in February and May, gathering 70 and 40 participants, respectively. These workshops likely continued to explore the realm of Intellectual Property Rights.

In summary, over the years, a variety of workshops and seminars have been organized, addressing different aspects of career development, skill enhancement, and intellectual property rights, with a significant increase in participation in recent years. These events demonstrate a commitment to learning, professional growth, and staying updated on the latest industry trends within the organization.
